Title: Classical solvability of generated Jacobian equations.

Abstract: Generated Jacobian equations were originally introduced by us as an extension of Monge-Ampère type equations in optimal transportation to embrace near field geometric optics. In this talk we present some of the basic theory, including the associated convexity theory of generating functions, and recent work on the resultant classical solvability of the associated boundary value problems.