

Who was an ancient mathematician? Reflections on the power of definitions

Serafina Cuomo

Durham University & Max-Planck-Institut für Wissenschaftsgeschichte

I will address one of the key questions of the conference (who is a practitioner?) in relation to the ancient Greek and Roman worlds. I will discuss recent definitions of ancient 'mathematician' and 'scientist' by Netz, Zhmud and Kouprianov, and evaluate the consequences of adopting different definitions of who ancient mathematicians were.
